About the Dialogue

Covered Dish

Guests are asked to bring a covered dish to share with others. Out of respect for the dietary laws of various religions, guests are asked to bring vegetarian and/or dairy dishes only.

Table Dialogue

Over dinner, participants (men and women) will be invited to reflect on key women of faith who have impacted and blessed their lives.

Panel Discussion

After the meal, there will be a panel discussion from Buddhist, Christian, Muslim, and Jewish representatives. The audience will have the opportunity to submit written questions for the panelists.

Other Helpful Information

This is a free event but registration is requested.

As we share a meal and our lives,
we hope to learn about faith, religious diversity,
and common values within our community.
